AN INVITATION TO ATTEND

PMGlobal invites the project management community to Melbourne for PMOZ 2008 - the 5th Annual Project Management Australia Conference, offering something for everyone applying the principles of project management as a business tool.

In partnership with PMI (Melbourne), this conference will focus on the delivery of high quality presentations; as well as encouraging a high level of participation by exhibitors and sponsors to maximise their interaction with delegates. PMOZ is a highly respected and integral part of the Project Management calendar, offering long term commitment to the advancement of the profession and industry. With excellent support from suppliers and supporting organisations PMOZ 2008 will provide a valuable opportunity for project managers from around Australia and New Zealand to share and explore their ideas and approaches with their peers.

PMOZ 2008 will provide a forum for education, knowledge transfer and the development of new skills and professional development of all sectors within the industry. We invite you to register now to take advantage of the discounted rates that are available for early registration, or to register your intent to deliver a conference presentation.

PMOZ is a long term commitment by PMGlobal and we look forward to seeing you at PMOZ 2008 in Melbourne.

The Directors

PMOZ Program Features

- Daily plenary sessions featuring local and international keynote speakers
- Business Program for construction, mining, engineering, business, ICT, urban and sustainable development, human resources and organisational project leaders
- Innovative and lively networking social functions including some with SEPGSM Australia conference delegates
- Conference session workshops (included in standard conference registrations)
- Pre-conference workshops (additional cost)

Keynote Speakers, Conference Sessions, 90 minute Workshops, Business Trade Centre and Social functions are all included in the conference fee.

And now, access to the SEPGSM Australia Conference program is also included in your fee.

THE VENUE

The Sofitel Melbourne is located at the top end of the prestigious Collins Street in the heart of Melbourne's central business, shopping, theatre and restaurant district and is within walking distance of many of Melbourne's tourist attractions including Federation Square, National Gallery of Victoria, Victorian Arts Centre, Melbourne Aquarium, Melbourne Museum and Melbourne Cricket Ground.

MELBOURNE

Melbourne's vibrant and cosmopolitan lifestyle provides the perfect setting for the 5th Annual Project Management Australia Conference 2008. The city boasts state of the art convention facilities, quality accommodation and an excellent transportation system. The State of Victoria is undergoing a period of exciting change. The city skyline bears testament to the infrastructure developments taking place that are transforming Melbourne into one of the most exciting cities of the 21st Century.

Within close proximity to Melbourne lies a diverse range of great Australian experiences for business visitors to enjoy – wineries, temperate rainforests, rugged coastlines, surf beaches, snowfields, deserts, wildlife reserves and historic goldmining towns.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Project Managers and Project Directors
- Portfolio and Program Managers
- CEO's, CIO's and CTO's
- Government Planners, Managers and Buyers
- Academics and Students
- Business and General Managers
- Human Resource Specialists
- Transport and Logistics Managers
- Property and Infrastructure Developers
- Engineers and Resource Managers

If you are a project management practitioner or use project management principles as a business tool you should attend.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

- Increase the recognition of Project Management as a profession
- Address current and planned global developments
- Establish long term and short term strategies for effective project management through structured workshops and think-tanks
- Provide an environment for individuals to learn
- Support recognition of excellence in project management
- Provide a forum for education, knowledge transfer and the development of new skills and professional development
- Promote networking and business opportunity development
- Promote the usage of Competency Standards

Two Conference Programs for one Registration Fee

Following on from the success in 2007, PMOZ will once again co-locate with the SEPGSM Australia Conference however the benefits to delegates have been increased! In 2008, your PMOZ registration will automatically entitle you to access the SEPGSM Australia conference program at no additional cost! This means you will have the choice of attending sessions from both conferences during the main conference days – access to over 100 presentations!

- Access to two key industry conference programs for one registration fee
- Access to high profile international and domestic joint keynote speakers
- Extensive networking opportunities during the event and at the joint social events

Call for Abstracts

You are invited to submit papers addressing the overall theme and one or more of the sub themes. Submissions from construction, mining, engineering, urban development, business, human resources and ICT industries are welcome.

PMOZ has a great reputation for blending a range of practical and theoretical papers into an exciting conference. The program coding system will allow delegates to easily differentiate the industry focus of each presentation.

Papers will be from leading practitioners and include case studies, “how to”, “war stories”, as well as from researchers and academics with new innovations, management techniques etc.

Papers are sought from:

- Full papers submitted by academics and researchers can be refereed if requested. This process is not offered to non-scholarly papers. Refereed papers will go through a formal and rigorous double-blind refereeing process and must follow academic requirements.
- Practicing project managers offering practical insights, tips and tricks based on their experience delivering projects – what went right, what went wrong and what lessons were learned.
- Senior managers discussing the benefits and challenges of managing projects, programs and portfolios from the corporate perspective.
- Practitioners working in PMO's and consultancies offering insights gained by working across multiple projects and organisations.

All abstracts will be considered that address the main conference theme of 'delivering benefits through effective portfolio, program and project management'.

What is SEPGSM?

SEPGSM (Software and Systems Engineering Process Group) is an international conference series presented by Carnegie Mellon University Software Engineering Institute (SEI), a USA federally funded research and development centre for advancing software engineering, process improvement principles and practices. The SEPGSM conference is a catalyst for government and industry to understand the implications and benefits of adopting process improvement. The conference also provides the opportunity for organisations to understand how they can become competitive through improving the quality of their products and at the same time reduce the costs and time to market. SEPGSM conferences are held annually in the United States, Europe, Australia and Latin America.

For more information, please visit www.sepgaust.com.au

SM SEPG is a service mark of Carnegie Mellon University

Conference Theme

Delivering benefits in an increasingly complex world through effective Portfolio, Program and Project Management

Sub-themes

- Creating change and delivering improvements to infrastructure, products and organisations.
- Optimizing stakeholder value by using scarce resources wisely and creating efficiencies both in the execution of the project and in the deliverables.
- Realizing benefits in a connected world by understanding and using multinational teams, virtual teams and distributed production wisely.
